There are 40 roles in the full-length version of Pilgrim, but it can easily be done with 20-22 cast members by doubling up. Smaller casts can do the show by limiting their performance to selected scenes and conveying the remainder by narration. The full length play requires a minimum of 3 male actors: the King, Christian and Hopeful. If you have a limited number of male vocalists, only Christian and the King need to be able to sing. Christian's vocal parts are written for a tenor.

Ensemble: There are 5 – 6 scenes and musical numbers for ensemble characters: party-goers, shadows, mannequins, courtroom attendees, and the river. Ensemble members sing 4 songs, but the show could be done with a choir, and the songs could be adjusted for the ensemble to sing more often.

ⁱ The character Goodwill may be represented as from a variety of cultures. In the original production she was Irish, but the role could be played as Jamaican, American-Southern, Hispanic, etc. Goodwill's idioms (and food) can be altered to fit the culture, as long as the meaning of the text is preserved.
